ABOUT CONTRACTHER CONNECT

ContractHER Connect was launched in 2025 as an offshoot of Contractors Connect as a dynamic networking and empowerment platform designed exclusively for women in the construction industry. Through engaging events, insightful educational opportunities, and a supportive community, ContractHER Connect fosters meaningful connections and professional growth in an industry where women are traditionally underrepresented. Our mission is to provide a space where female professionals, entrepreneurs, and industry leaders can collaborate, learn, and thrive together.

WHY CONTRACTHER CONNECT?

- Industry Representation – Women make up less than 11% of the construction workforce. ContractHER Connect is dedicated to increasing visibility, opportunities, and support for women in the field.
- Collaboration & Growth – We believe in the power of women working together, sharing knowledge, and uplifting one another in a male-dominated industry.
- Opportunities Beyond the Job Site – Whether you're a business owner, tradeswoman, designer, project manager, or executive, ContractHER Connect provides a space to grow and build lasting professional relationships.

ABOUT US

Contractors Connect was started by Erin Bakker from The Hive Creative Consulting in 2017. The networking event quickly grew to include six meetups and lunch & learns in rotating locations in Bay, Walton and Okaloosa Counties. The well-attended events filled a void for professionals in the construction industry by creating a laid-back environment to make new connections.

In 2024, Erin Bakker and her partner, Sarah White, brought Contractors Connect back with their new company, Beespoke Consulting. After a four-year hiatus caused by the pandemic, the first event took place in Walton County. The platform has now expanded to include quarterly networking events in Bay, Walton & Escambia Counties and the sister-group, ContractHER Connect.
